January 2nd 2025

Steve Hawker

Carbon Dioxide - What is it and How Important is It?

Steve will explain the importance of this trace gas, to all life on earth. Is there a danger of too much? What are the implications of too little? There is much talk of how it affects the planet, for good and for ill.

What are the effects on the climate? Have the forecasts of those effects been accurate. What will the world really be like in the future, and what should we be doing to ensure that human life continues to thrive.

February 6th 2025

Neil Ward

In search of Hominids and Humanoids

Neil Ward, who has previously spoken at Dorset Earth Mysteries, returns again to this time enlighten us about Hominids, essentially the Bigfoot. What is the Minnesota Iceman? Also the extra information about Patti, the female Bigfoot filmed in 1967. Look out for Neil's forth-coming book True Tales of the Paranormal, due out in November 24.

July 3rd 2025

Maria Wheatley

Lost Civilisations and Standing Stones

Maria will explore the lost civilisations of the British Isles that had similar burial practises to ancient Egypt and how they created a temple dedicated to the Moon and the Goddess of Reincarnation, personified as a constellation that was once at the zenith of Stonehenge.

August 7th 2025

Richard Hutley

ATLANTIS

The Myth, Legend and Facts about the antediluvian lost civilisation of Atlantis first reported by Plato 3000 years ago.

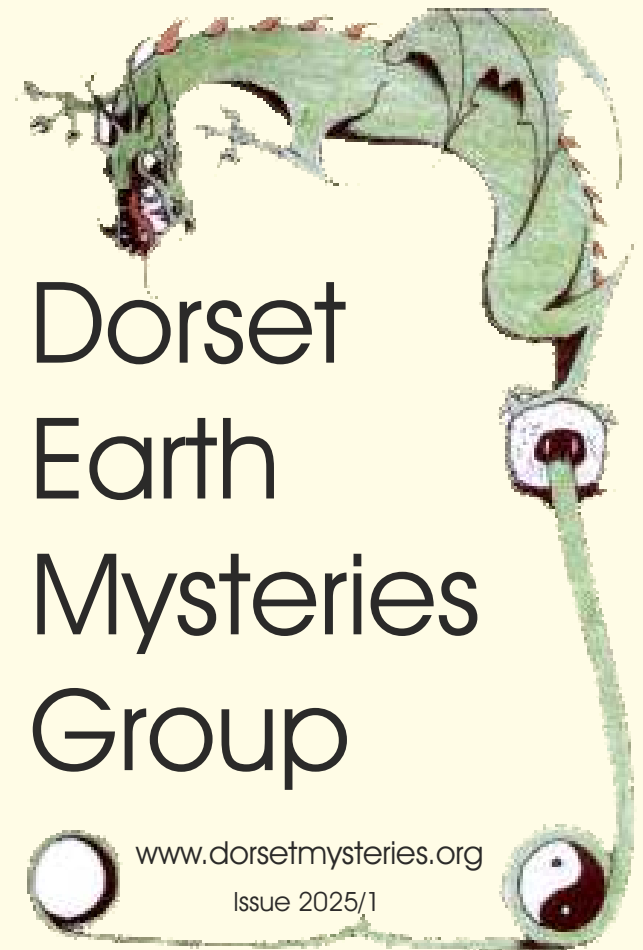

What do we know, where could it be? Is there evidence that exists today?

September 4th 2025

Ben Emlyn-Jones

SETI and UFO's

The news has announced that "BLC1" a signal from an extraterrestrial civilization might have been found. SETI, the Search for ExtraTerrestrial Intelligence, is a scientific project to find intelligent life beyond the earth. So is UFOlogy. Then why are the two so divided from each other?
